As Hannah digs deeper into the investigation, she uncovers a web of secrets and resentments that have been simmering beneath the surface of the seemingly idyllic community. Suspects abound, each with their own motives for wanting the victim dead.

There's the ambitious mayor, who sees the Historical Society as an obstacle to his plans for modernizing the town. There's the society's enigmatic president, who seems to be hiding something in her past. And there's even Hannah's own boyfriend, Detective Mike Kingston, who has his own secrets to keep.

As the investigation progresses, Hannah finds herself in danger at every turn. The killer is determined to silence her, but Hannah refuses to be intimidated. With the help of her loyal friends, she follows a trail of clues that leads her closer to the truth.

In a race against time, Hannah must uncover the killer's identity before they strike again. But as she gets closer to the truth, she realizes that the killer is someone she never expected, someone who is willing to do anything to protect their dark secrets.
